Dear Giusi and Tiziano:

On behalf of the Project Management Institute Educational Foundation (PMIEF) Board of Directors, volunteers and staff, I am writing to extend our sincere thanks to The Project Management Lab for your commitment to our work. With help from donors like you, PMIEF continues to support project management and project-based learning education for children, youth and adults across the globe.

As a PMIEF Leadership Society Member, The Project Management Lab joins others in helping us support project management education; no-cost educational resources and curricula; community-based workshops, as well as, scholarships for deserving youth, educators, nonprofit staff and emerging practitioners.

The Project Management Lab recognizes the importance of project management to every area of our lives – family, school, work and community. Contributions, like yours, make it possible for schools, nonprofits, and communities, throughout the world, to provide project management educational opportunities; and, to develop and implement meaningful projects that positively impact the lives of their constituents.

All associated with PMIEF are grateful that The Project Management Lab continues to contribute to our efforts and, in the coming year, will help us to promote the power of project management for social good® across the globe!

Sincerely,

Jeannette L. Barr, MS, CFRE
Executive Director
